The first annual summer convention of the Minnesota State Dairymen's Association opened in Brainerd Thursday morning. The officers present included President Edward H. Ulrich of Biscay; First Vice President George P. Grout of Duluth; Treasurer J. M. Jack, of Northfield; Secretary Chris Heen of Osakis and members from all sections of the state.

"This first summer meeting is largely an experiment," said Secretary Heen, "but I am sure the attendance at Brainerd will be a hundred or more."

The address of welcome to the convention, meeting in the spacious Chamber of Commerce rooms, was given by Mayor R. A. Belse. According to government reports, said he, Brainerd was the healthiest city in the Northwest and contributing to maintain that standard were three creameries in the city. Brainerd was progressive and its citizens public spirited. He paid a tribute to the late Judge G. W. Holland who bequeathed valuable lands to the city believed to be rich in mineral wealth. Brainerd was in the heart of Minnesota.

"After enjoying our hospitality, we wish you would bring your wives and families and ship your cows to Brainerd and make this your permanent home. I am sure you would build up this section and make it the wealthiest and most progressive in the entire state," said the mayor.

Henry I. Cohen, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said the Chamber stood for community development and aimed to attract farmer and business man in cooperative work. Whatever benefited the farmer served also to benefit the city. He told the Biblical story of Laban who served seven years for each of Jacob's daughters, in the meantime materially augmenting the wealth of the shrewd dairyman Laban. Dairymen was a source of prosperity in the most ancient days as well as the most modern.

Rudolph A. Lee, editor of the Long Prairie Leader, spoke on "A Successful Dairy Community as a Village and City Asset." Mr. Lee advanced no theories, but marshalled the facts and brought his own home county of Todd in the lime light as showing what successful dairymen can do to a whole community, farmers as well as the villages and cities. There are now fourteen cooperative creameries in Todd county and they paid out last year in cash $1,400,000. The leading creameries pay from $125,000 to $150,000 annually. Not only are they building up the wealth of those directly interested in the creameries, but of the country itself.

The oldest creamery is 17 years old. When it was established there were but three banks in the county and their total deposits were about $164,000.

Today there are 14 creameries and 18 banks and the latter have approximately deposits of $3,000,000.

A successful dairy country is an asset to town and county and it is up to every business man to do his part to help in the development. Todd county found that the cooperative creamery was the cornerstone for developing its prosperity. The subject of H. Klidde of the State University Farm this afternoon was "The Care and Feeding of the Dairy Cow."

"The Cooperative Creamery" was to be the title of F. D. Currier's talk today. Mr. Currier, secretary of the dairymen's association for 8 years and now manager of a successful cooperative creamery in Nicollet county, was unable to be present and A. J. McGuire of the University Farm, well known in the Northwest for work on experimental farms, substituted.

Mr. McGuire compared the work of the co-operative creamery, the private creamery and the centralized creamery and claimed the cooperative creamery paid the farmers from 6 to 8 cents more per pound.

Exemption Regulations Are Now Ready

(By United Press)

Washington, June 28—The exemption regulations are now ready and President Wilson will soon issue the proclamation. Every provision against unfairness in the selection or tampering with the regulations has been safeguarded, and an authoritative forecast indicates the following general exemptions:

Married men with wife or children solely dependent on them for support; men with orphaned brothers or sisters under certain age; workers in industries necessary to the maintenance of military organizations or the maintenance of national interest, and only men indispensable to the continuance of such industries are exempted; county, state and federal officials.

Affidavits are required from claimants affirming they are dependents and after an investigation of the evidence the boards may grant exemptions on these grounds. The regulations fail to specify industries that are necessary to the exemption, the discretion lying with the local appellate boards.

GENERAL WOOD MUST REPORT THIS WEEK

Washington, June 28.—Unless Adjutant General Fred B. Wood makes a satisfactory accounting to the war department before Saturday night Minnesota will get no more national guard equipment. General Wood also must explain his delay.

Captain W. F. Rhinow, military secretary to Governor Burnquist, was told this after he once had satisfied the militia bureau with a report on General Wood's accounts.

After a conference with Major Williams, head of the property division of the militia bureau, Captain Rhinow was given authority to get $22,000 in ambulance equipment, the amount needed for the field hospital corps being organized in St. Paul.

While Major Williams was not exactly satisfied with the report made on the transfer of property by General Wood to Captain Harry L. Brady, property and disbursing officer of the Minnesota guard, he decided to give Captain Rhinow clearance papers and an order for the ambulance equipment. Captain Rhinow left with the endorsed voucher for the treasury department and while there was summoned back to the war department, where the voucher was recalled.

MISSISSIPPI LUMBERJACKS

Last Log Drive on Mississippi River
Now on Way to Minneapolis
From Swan River

REACH BRAINERD THIS FALL

Early Day Accounts are Retold Under a Grand Rapids Headline in Duluth News-Tribune

Many Brainerd people will be interested in the following regarding the last big drive on the Mississippi river. The old time "lumberjack" like numerous other features of the pioneer days in this section of Minnesota is rapidly passing, and this city was the outfitting point for the lumber woods north for many years, before the M. & L. and other railroads penetrated the northern pine country, and the toting of supplies by six and eight horse teams was one of the features that the old time resident will well remember. The article reads:

The last big log drive on the upper Mississippi river now is on its way to Minneapolis from Swan River landing, near here. Its arrival will mark the passing of the old "lumberjack" days on the upper Mississippi. "We are taking the boom sticks down with the logs," said R. H. Chute, secretary of the Mississippi & Rum River Boom company. "When the last of the drive is brought in next summer the river will be clear of logs except for deadheads that are yet to be raised from the bottom. They cannot be driven, but will probably be sawed at the small mills along the river. It is the last drive."

It was with real regret that Caleb D. Dorr, Minneapolis' oldest settler, heard today that the final log drive had started down the river. Mr. Dorr was "boom-master" at Minneapolis for 25 years during the height of the river driving period.

In those days the log drive was about the biggest and most important thing we had in this part of the country," said Mr. Dorr. "It seems hard to believe this is the last one. If I am physically able I hope to go up to the mill some day before it is over and see the logs come in."

The "rear" of the final drive is expected to reach Brainerd before the river freezes this fall, and possibly to get as far as Little Falls. When the river opens next spring work will be resumed where it was left off, and the river will be cleaned of floating logs right down to the Minneapolis mills.

The logs of the last drive will keep the Minneapolis saw mills going through next summer. It is expected, and then that city will see an end of the floating saw log, which was the foundation of its early growth before the civil war, and for many years was the most important industry.

The log drive has been an annual summer feature on the Mississippi above Minneapolis for 70 years. It was in 1847 the pioneers of St. Anthony first began to hack at the trees up along the Rum river and other tributaries, and start them down stream, and in 1848 the first saw-mill, built by Franklin Steele and Arnd Godfrey, began its noisy humming at east end of the first St. Anthony Falls dam.

The old mill had a capacity of 15,000 feet a day and the lumber was hurried green from the saws to build houses for the fast arriving settlers in the booming frontier village. Its equipment was "two up-and-down saws and a lath saw."

With the last log drive will come the passing also of the "boom company" as an active corporation. The first loggers on the upper river drove the logs they had cut, each for himself, but soon found all sorts of confusion and disputes arising.

In 1851 several of them organized the Mississippi Boom company, and others the St. Anthony Boom company. The two companies worked side by side for a time, but in 1856 were merged into the Mississippi & Rum River Boom company.

The boom company took charge of the logs as they were driven into the main river and undertook to keep them going until they reached the mills. An old side wheel steamer propelled the "wannisans" or barges on which sleeping bunks were built and supplies carried, and followed the "rear" of the drive down, then transported the crew and equipment back up the river to start another drive. As the logs lodged on sandbars, men, sometimes with the help of horses, rolled them back into the stream and kept them going.

To keep the logs away from bad spots the company soon began building booms of logs chained together in strings, end to end. Property had to be acquired here and there along the river, either for use or because it had been damaged by overflow and the Mississippi & Rum River Boom company still owns numerous parcels of real estate, including one piece on Nicollet island, all the way up to Brainerd. Storage pockets were created by booms, in which logs could be retained until it was time to feed them into the channel and deliver them to the mills.

The sawmill industry grew in Minneapolis by leaps and bounds even before the war, and afterwards kept pace with the city growth until 1899 when seven great mills cut 500,000,000 feet in one season, and nearly 500,000 feet of lumber was shipped out by rail.

Loggers had pushed their way up the river, cleaning up the marvelous Rum river resources, and then into the Swan river, Crow Wing river and into Leech lake. The Northern Boom company was formed to handle logs in the river above Brainerd. Timber operators harvested logs in vast quantities and sold them to mills on the Mississippi all the way down to Hannibal, Mo.

At the Minneapolis "sorting boom" logs for the local mills were diverted. While the others were sent down sluices past St. Anthony Falls and driven to a big storage boom near Mendota, where the St. Paul Boom company stopped them and lashed them together into rafts. The rafts, each one destined for some down river mill, were propelled down the river by small but powerful boats. The last of the great rafts went down the river two years ago, and the St. Paul boom was broken up.

In later years mills nearer the timber have flourished, and at Bemidji, which is one of the upper Mississippi, the Crookston Lumber company has two large mills drawing from that territory. Another mill is sawing at Deer River.

Gradually the best timber tributary to Minneapolis has been cut out, and the logs now on their way are not from the Mississippi watershed at all. They were cut west of Sturgeon lake, in territory that drains north into the Rainy river, and hauled by rail to the Mississippi at the Swan River landing, where they were dumped into the river and driven from that point to Minneapolis.

The last of this lot of logs went into the river this spring, and the last log to be driven to Minneapolis now is bobbing along with the current around Aitkin.

LOCAL BOARDS WILL PICK MEN FOR ARMY

Washington, June 28.—Rigid adherence to the policy laid down in the national army selective draft law, of placing the question of exemptions in the hands of local boards, is expected to characterize the exemption regulations to be made public by the war department in a few days.

It is understood the regulations will map out only the general procedure of the boards. It is regarded as certain that no specific class exemptions will be provided for and that each man will be appraised on his individual occupation and physical capacity.

The judgment of civilian doctors who are attached to local exemption boards as to the ability of any individual to bear the hardships of a soldier's life will be a determining factor.

Married men will be exempted as a class. In each case the board will determine whether the dependency of wife, children or other relatives on any man is so complete as to warrant his rejection.

Resolution Adopted by Russian Workers' Congress.

Petrograd, June 28.—A resolution categorically rejecting any move for a separate peace between Germany and Russia has been adopted by an overwhelming majority by the Congress of Workers' and Soldiers' Deputies of all Russia. Many Fanatics Are Being Rounded Up in Washington.

Washington, June 28.—Mentally unbalanced by the war men and women are flocking to Washington with plans to end the conflict, to make war impossible, to solve the problem of the submarine, the Zeppelin and the gas bombs. Since June 1 the police have arrested eighty-six persons, a majority of them men who came to Washington to tell the president how to win the war with Germany. They were sent to insane hospitals.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally, to keep the kidneys clean and active.

In fact her hundreds of thousands of friends will undoubtedly declare that this is the best thing in which she has appeared to date.

URGED TO MAKE REPORTS

Red Cross Workers Asked to Make Final Reports Quickly to Secretary

Those who have been in charge of the Red Cross war fund campaign in Brainerd and the district allotted to this city, are urged to make their final reports as soon as possible to the secretary. Cash should be turned in at his office or banked at the First National bank to the credit of O. A. Peterson, treasurer, and a duplicate deposit slip filed with Secretary Lincoln in order that all cash may be recorded.

Towns outside the city where the campaign has been inaugurated under the direction of the Brainerd organization should file a report as early as possible and make check payable to Mr. Peterson and send the same to the secretary. It is expected that it will require some time to collect all the money in and close up the account and each chairman and field captain is urged to be as prompt as possible, in order to facilitate matters.

Detecting Shortcomings.

Do you wish to find out a person's weak points? Note the failings he has the quickest eye for in others. They may not be the very failings he is himself conscious of, but they will be their next door neighbors. No man keeps such a jealous lookout as a rival—J. C. and A. W. Hare.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Care of Children's Eyes.

It is especially important that parents should appreciate the need of proper care of the eyes of the newborn baby and the urgent necessity of consulting a competent physician as soon as anything wrong with the baby's eyes is noticed, especially if there is a discharge from them. Many cases of blindness result from the disease known as ophthalmia neonatorum, or the eye disease of newborn babes, which could have been prevented had simple preventive measures been used or which could have been cured if treated in time by the doctor. Children with "cross eyes" or with a "cast in the eye" as cross eyes is sometimes called, should be taken to a competent eye physician as soon as the defect is noticed and long before the child has reached school age. Neglect of cross eyes may result in blindness or defective sight in one or other of the child's eyes from misuse or improper use of the eyes, even in very young children.

"The Garden of Allah"

In Selig's superb photo-production, "The Garden of Allah," theatre-goers are treated to the unusual combination of vital, modern action upon dreamy age-old background.

The desert—that potent, limitless, unfathomable space of a million secrets—same blood curdling and breathing of dark and mysterious deeds, others whispering of romance and love that will never die—is the scene and background of this immense drama—and it has been most faithfully, most vitally reproduced.

The hot, burning sands of time, that whisper secrets of a forgotten past—the whirling dervishes, the head-hunters, the terrific and stormy picturesque oriental camps; the mosques, the oases, the queer ancient cities—as well as the great caravans of camels, the rites, religions and customs of the people—are all living, moving realities for the master photo-play.

And yet all this costly grandeur may be caught only with the corner of the eye, as it were, for the soul-stirring dramatic action rivets all the direction attention.

"The Garden of Allah" will be presented in Brainerd at the Best theatre next Monday and Tuesday. To miss it is to miss the acme of high class art in this particular line.

BREVITY NOT BAR TO BEARING ARMS.

Washington, June 28.—In reply to a number of requests from men of small stature who wish to form regiments like Britain's famous "Yorkshire Bantams," the war department announced that no man will be rejected for service if, in the opinion of the recruiting officer, his deficiencies in height and weight will not materially impair his usefulness as a soldier.

In the war between the United States and Mexico there were eleven pitched battles and thirty-five actions, combats, sieges and skirmishes.

Salvation Army Meetings

Tonight E. A. Wilmer will change the character of his meeting and conduct a service for Christians. His subject will be "A Higher Walk." Tomorrow, Friday, at eight o'clock Lieutenant Colonel A. T. Brewer of sisted by Major Wm. Kiddle of Minnesota territorial headquarters, Chicago, as neapolis provincial headquarters, will lead the meeting which will be fully public. Estill for the various departments of the Young Peoples work in the Salvation Army and he and the major hope by their visit to create interest and organize a better and more progressive work among the children and young people in the local corps.

Lt. Col. A. T. Brewer

In addition to this Lt.-Col. Brewer is a gifted and acceptable speaker besides possessor of a rich baritone voice for soloing. Major Kiddle has traveled in the work of the army possibly more than any other man of his rank and age and is equally at home among the jungles of India, the karoo of Africa, the corps of Great Britain as upon the American platform. A crowded hall is anticipated.

MAY FLOOD BUTTE MINES

Operators Are Prepared to Face General Shutdown.

Butte, Mont., June 28.—Mines in Butte are nearer a complete shutdown than they have been in three years.

All machinists, boilermakers and blacksmiths employed in the mines quit. Only carpenters, engineers and a few miners remain.

The engineers may strike in sympathy with electricians, who struck and then demanded that the mines recognize the Metal Mine Workers' union. Men walking out did so in sympathy with the electricians.

At the offices of the Anaconda Copper Mining company it was said that if the engineers quit work the mines will be flooded.

The force of miners at work is about 10 per cent normal.

SOCIALIST NEWSPAPER IS BARRED FOR TREASON.

Cleveland, June 28.—Through the protests of Cleveland subscribers it became known that the June 15 issue of the Socialist News, published weekly in Cleveland, had been barred from the mails at Cleveland postoffice on order of William Lamar, solicitor of the federal postoffice department, under the drastic provisions of the new espionage law for alleged treasonable utterances.

Philadelphia, June 28.—Sustaining a verdict of the United States district court in favor of the United Fruit company in the $15,000,000 suit of the Bluefields Steamship company, limited, of Louisiana, under the Sherman anti-trust act, Judge Woolley, in the United States circuit court of appeals here, ruled that "a party to a conspiracy against the trust laws has no redress against the other party to the agreement if it is injured or suffers loss by the actions of its co-conspirators."

CONDUCTOR MAY ALSO DIE

Kills Man in Exchange of Shots Near Great Falls.

Great Falls, Mont., June 28.—Corbin Trotter, who is said to have been a lineman who once lived in St. Paul, was killed by a shot through the heart at Vaughn, twelve miles west of Great Falls, by Conductor Frank Kessel of the Great Northern road in an exchange of shots between the two, started because Kessel refused to permit Trotter to ride to this city.

Trotter had shot Roy P. Stone a few minutes before in a drunken row in a saloon, when refused a ride in Stone's automobile.

Stone and Kessel are in a hospital. Stone was shot twice and Kessel four times, both probably fatally.

The Bittern.

The bittern mentioned in Isaiah xiv, 13; xxxiv, 11, and in Zephaniah ii, 14, is a fowl about the size of the heron. It is mentioned as the symbol of desolation. Nineveh and Babylon became a possession of the bittern.

Man and Civilization.

The marvelous progress of the last fifty years has lulled us into a sense of self confidence and security as regards our racial progress, says Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk in the Scientific Monthly. Dr. Fisk believes that "civilization" has not improved mankind. He writes:

"I do not think we have any evidence that man as an organism, whether in regard to his physical or mental capacities, now presents a higher average type than characterized the nations of antiquity. Indeed, so far as his physical structure is concerned, there is much evidence to the contrary, and I think we may be assured that the great minds of antiquity would have made equally good use of present day knowledge if they were with us today and in a position to utilize it."

Submarines and Speed.

The size of the submarine must be limited by its ability to maneuver, and to maneuver quickly. In quick submergence lies the only hope of safety for the submarine attacked on the surface. It is figured that a boat built to make twenty-five knots on the surface would, through its great size, take nearly ten minutes to submerge. A destroyer traveling at thirty knots would cover something like six miles in that length of time, which simply means that the commander of such a submarine, caught on the surface by a torpedo boat or a destroyer anywhere within a radius of six miles, might just as well surrender his ship, for if he did not he could not escape ramming and sinking.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Carnegie's Advice.

Andrew Carnegie, who for years yielded an influence in the industrial world as great perhaps as any living man, came to this country practically penniless when he was twelve years old. His phenomenal rise in life may be attributed to his following clear principles and methods. In an address to students in a commercial college he said: "Avoid speculation; avoid indorsements. Aim high. For the question, 'What must I do for my employer?' substitute 'What can I do?' Begin to save early—capitalists trust the saving young man." Concentrate your energy, thought and capital; fight it out on one line."

How Playing Cards Are Made.

Did you know that ordinary playing cards are made of three or four sheets of paper pasted together? In making them the sheet on which is printed the back of the card is laid down on a table and the white side brushed with paste. A sheet of cartridge paper is laid on this and covered with paste. Perhaps a second sheet of cartridge paper is added. Finally the sheet which is to form the face of the card is placed on top.

When the workman has a great stack of these pasted sheets he puts them in a strong press and squeezes out all the water from the paste. Then they are separated and dried, which makes them rough and wrinkled, so that they have to be ironed between steel rollers and pressed between smooth sheets of zinc in another press. After this they are brushed with a mixture of white lead, water and glue. When this is dry they are rubbed with flannel dipped in soapstone and polished with a brush to give them a smooth, bright finish.—Detroit Free Press.

The Unpatriotic.

We take this little sentence from Pierre de Coubertin's "The Heart of Love." "What constitutes the worth of a country is the worth of each member of it."

That is a great truth. In the light of it only a worthy citizen is a patriot. The questions are: Who is the worthy citizen? What are his qualities? What sort of a life does he lead? When these questions are pressed with respect to very many people it will be found that there are many persons who are real enemies of the country rather than its patriots. Every grafter, every demagogue, every spoils politician, every drunkard, every gambler, every profane swearer, every liar, backbiter and every man who beats and curses his wife is an enemy of the country, and as long as they last the republic will be an experiment and a problem. One must be a worthy man to be a friend of his country.—Ohio State Journal.

Minnesota lakes are to be seized to supply state institutions, and the market, with rough fish. Carlos Avery will issue licenses to agents of the state board of control, and the only waters exempt from this operation will be the Mississippi and St. Croix rivers. This method is taken to supply at nominal cost food that otherwise would go unused or would be on the market at an advanced cost. If the rough fish in Minnesota, all good from a food standpoint, are taken from the lakes it will be a benefit in other ways than as a food product, as it will clean the fishing grounds of pirate fish and put them to some good use leaving the game fish, bass, pike and other kinds to increase in numbers. It is a good move from both standpoints and if Carlos Avery has the handling of it there is no reason to doubt but that the interests from a game standpoint will be observed.

The ninth district of the Liberty Loan campaign is credited with having the best bunch of newspaper givers in the country. The daily press and weekly publications to the number of 216 and 467 donated $50,000 worth of space, the advertising being furnished by the committee in charge and the newspapers published it at their regular advertising rates receiving the bills and sending them to the committee. "The newspapers of this section, which includes Minnesota, did more to help the Liberty Loan than was done in a like manner anywhere else in the United States," an official of the Federal Reserve bank says in a statement.

How the Camera Man Feels Them.

The life of the camera man who takes the weekly news motion pictures is not always one of glory. When Mrs. Vanderich, for instance, asks him to take a picture of life poodle when he wants permission to take pictures of her yacht he finds himself between two fires, notes the Popular Science Monthly. Either he must waste some precious film or the dog or he must refuse and be shown the quickest way back. One who can camera man, however, improvised a fake camera crank for such occasions. The crank arm fits loosely on the shaft of the film gear in the camera. When the poodle is going through his antics the turning arm slips on the shaft, and not a foot of film is exposed, although to all appearances a picture is being made.

White Sands.

The sands at Blackpool, in Lancashire, are said to be the whitest in the British Isles. From Penzance to Land's End, on the coast of Cornwall, the sand on the seashore is very white, while in St. Mary's, one of the Scilly Islands, the sand on the shore is exceedingly white and glistening. On the other hand, the sand about Plymouth is bluish gray in color, probably owing to the shells of mussels broken and mixed with it, and on the coasts of the North sea the sand of the seashore is yellowish brown or reddish.—Pearson's Weekly.

BAD ROADS CAUSE WASTE OF MILLIONS

America Faces Big Task With 2,000,000 Miles of Unimproved Highways.

In nine-tenths of the states of the richest nation the world has ever seen during and for some days after the frequent heavy rains hardly a wheel turns outside the paved streets of their cities. Farmers are isolated from the towns and from each other. Social intercourse practically ceases. School attendance is virtually impossible. Transportation is at a standstill. Millions of dollars' worth of wheeled vehicles become for the time being worthless.

When it rains hundreds of thousands of square miles of the United States not only lack efficient roads, they lack roads. All they have is the right of way. But a public right of way over more than a mile of ordinary stone road and that there would be a saving in upkeep of at least $1,200 a mile in the first five years, while at the end of ten years there would be a saving of $7,000 or $8,000. A good grade of cement is being manufactured in New Zealand that is suitable for concrete road building, and, as there are no severe frosts in the country, it is proposed to make the roads four inches thick, as in California.

EDUCATION IN ROAD WORK.

Need of Directing Enthusiasm Along Lines of Sound Economy.

Fairfax Harrison, who, besides being president of the Southern Railway company, is president of the American Highway association, says in regard to the educational work of the association to obtain a dollar's worth of road work for each dollar's worth of taxes:

Pure Bred Herefords on Wise Farm

Mr. Wise is an energetic worker for the uplift of the community, having numerous properties both in and out of Brainerd city, but spends as much of the summertime as possible on his farm, personally supervising the various activities located there, and taking a keen enjoyment in improving the condition of the place.

His pleasant summer home, overlooking beautiful Long lake, while not at all pretentious, is planned for beauty and comfort, and serves its intended purpose well, housing the person and family of one of the best boosters of better farming to be found in any locality.

which travel is impossible is not a road. It is not an efficient road unless traffic is not only possible, but thoroughly practicable 365 days a year.

The countries of western Europe have long considered their efficient road system as public utilities, necessary not only to the civilized life of their communities, but essential from the standpoint of national defense. What the average prosperous American farmer or business man calls a road would be looked upon as a crime by a European peasant. The economic waste in our primary transportation—farm to railroad—can be estimated yearly in the hundreds of millions, all chargeable to inefficient roads. The question which has interested the American farmer is not the cost per ton mile of hauling his crops and how it could be lowered to his profit, but whether the road from his farm to the railroad station was passable or not.

Some conception of the problem which faces American road builders in the achievement of a national road system may be gained by a consideration of the fact that as compared with France, with a system of 355,000 miles of improved roads—the development of nearly 400 years of maintenance—we have about 2,000,000 miles of unimproved roads yet to be developed into a general national system.

In the total of over 2,000,000 miles of public right of way, or so called roads, in the United States there are at present but little over 30,000 miles of what may be technically referred to as "improved" roads. The task is indeed a tremendous one and one which will require and is now securing the best constructive ability of the nation.

ROADS IN NEW ZEALAND.

Concrete Will Be Adopted There For Highway Construction.

Road commissioners in this country who would not like to admit that they are less up to date than those of New Zealand probably will be surprised to learn that the authorities there propose to adopt concrete as a road building material. The American consul general at Auckland reports to the state department that the local and national authorities in New Zealand are studying the subject of good roads, realizing that these are essential to development of the remoter parts of the dominion. Upkeep of the stone roads has been found very expensive, and the construction of concrete roads, as carried on in some parts of the United States, is being studied carefully, with the result that it is proposed to adopt some of these methods.

The New Zealand authorities estimate that a mile of twelve foot concrete road could be built for $2,000

"The public interest in road improvements during the last two years has been steadily growing, but it has been largely exhibited in a willingness to vote road bonds and to assume road taxes. The use of the funds so made available has apparently not yet given the American public any sustained concern. The reason is not far to seek. It lies in the assumption that highway construction and maintenance require little more than good faith and common sense.

"Many persons without engineering experience have been persuaded to acquiesce in methods of work which lead to unnecessary waste. Highway engineers throughout the country have been confronted with the necessity of directing the energies of enthusiastic advocates of better roads along lines at once financially and economically wise. Such educational work has been and still is no small task for men so busily engaged in the discharge of their usual duties as are the professional road builders."

English Roads In Bad Shape.

In consequence of the depletion of labor and increased traffic in the munition areas road deterioration is becoming very pronounced, and there will be work for thousands of returned soldiers after the war before the surfaces will be returned to their former states.

Kneeling Horses.

In ancient times, before the invention of stirrups and luxurious saddles, horses were taught to kneel to permit their riders to mount. A beautiful Greek vase in one of the museums in Petrograd shows a war horse of many centuries ago kneeling low before an amazon. The riders in those days mounted from the "off" side in contradiction to the modern usage. Plutarch tells how in the first century of this era certain effeminate Roman riders found even the horse block of too little assistance and had their horses trained to kneel to them.

Boulevard and Esplanade.

Both "esplanade" and "boulevard" are military terms by origin. The original "boulevard" was a bulwark or horizontal part of the rampart, and an "esplanade" was originally the glacis or slope of the counterscarp of a fortified place. A writer 200 years ago noted that the word boulevard was "now chiefly taken for the void space between the glacis of a citadel and the first houses of a town," hence its extension to other "void spaces" suitable for promenading. The old French "esplanade" was defined by Cotgrave as "a planing, leveling, evening of ways," from Latin "explanare," to smooth or flatten out, whence the English words "explain" and "explanation."

M'LEAN PROPOSES RADICAL CHANGES

Would Give Cabinet Members Seats In Congress.

MANY OBJECTIONS TO PLAN

Connecticut Senator's Idea Is All Right, but It Won't Work In This Country. Fellow Members Have Fun With Proposal—"Senatorial Courtesy," a Queer Procedure, Described.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 28.—[Special.]—From time to time an effort is made to change the form of the United States government by presenting a bill. Such an effort was that of Senator McLean of Connecticut in proposing to have cabinet officers given seats on the floor of the senate and house, where they could be asked questions and give replies and enter into the discussion of various measures.

One of the first great difficulties with such a measure is that it would have to run the gamut of a long debate before it was adopted. The other is that few cabinet officers would have time to attend the sessions of congress—both houses—and look after the important matters which come up in their departments.

The Idea Is All Right.

The idea is all right. It is fashioned on the manner in which the parliament of Great Britain and her colonies conduct legislative business. But it should be remembered that in Great Britain the real power—that which is now represented in the president in this country—holds a seat in the parliament. It would be incongruous to compel cabinet officers appointed by the president made responsible in congress when the president himself was not present.

Had Fun With It.

The senators had a little fun with McLean's bill. He wanted it referred to the judiciary committee. Overman said it changed the rules of the senate and should go to his committee. Borah said if it passed cabinet officers ought to be elected, and he suggested privileges and elections as the proper place. William Alden Smith suggested civil service and retraining, and Gallinger said it would no doubt find its way to the committee on disposition of useless papers. McLean finally had his way, and it went to the judiciary.

Courtesy In the Senate.

"Senatorial courtesy" is a hackneyed term. It applies to only one thing when everything is sifted down to the wheat. It means that one senator would not interfere with another senator's little scheme, bill, job or convenience, providing that his own convenience was not disturbed. It is not senatorial courtesy to object to another senator's bill or to in any way put him to any inconvenience.

But it is not considered a lack of courtesy to get up and leave while a senator is talking. It is not lack of courtesy to permit a senator to talk to empty seats, nor to disregard anything he is saying.

The senate is a queer but an important body.

Walsh Not Disturbed.

The first term of Senator Walsh of Montana is nearing an end. This time next year there will be contests in thirty-two states for senate seats, and Senator Walsh will be in the thick of the fight. But he is not disturbed. The Republicans of Montana divided sharply in the Taft-Roosevelt fight, and the bitterness engendered has not disappeared. The most prominent Progressive is Joe Dixon, who managed Roosevelt's campaign, and the most prominent regulars are men who helped to wring the neck of Roosevelt delegates at Chicago in 1912. It has been suggested that the woman member of congress from Montana may run against Walsh. But the senator is not in the least disturbed. He rather expects to be returned without much trouble.

Germans Could Not Land.

During a discussion of one of the war bills Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia expressed his opinion about the reports that Germany is likely to send an army here to destroy the country. "I am tired of being frightened by Germans," he said, "or hearing talk about Germans when I am not frightened. I am tired of that nightmare being brought out to scare the women and children. Actually there are good women in this country who are looking for 10,000,000 Germans to come over. Why, they could not land. If they should bring a million Germans at a time they could not land when we get a million and a half trained men to meet them. If they had all the ships in the world they could not bring more than 500,000 at a time."

Needed Food Legislation.

Congressman Byrns of Tennessee altogether approved of the food legislation that was presented to the house. He wanted to go even further. "I would like to see," he said, "a bill brought in here which would open up the cold storage plants of this country. I would like to see a bill which would break up the conspiracies which have been formed for boosting prices and put the conspirators where they belong."

Aviation Tests.

Could you learn to aviate? Try the following tests, which were given to a number of would be government aviators who were examined recently in the government school of aviation:

Balance thirty seconds on either foot with your eyes closed.

Walk backward and forward thirty paces with your eyes closed and see how far you have strayed from a straight line.

Sit on a revolving chair and twist yourself around a half dozen times; then, without opening your eyes, name the direction you are facing.

Put cold water in your ears; then replace it with warm water. If the effect is the same in both cases your ears are normal as far as susceptibility to altitude is concerned.—Chicago Tribune.

Joan of Arc's Bell.

In the cathedral church of Notre Dame, Paris, there is a bell which dates from the days of Joan of Arc—"the blessed bell" which sounded the tocsin when the Maid of Orleans appeared in August, 1429, and Paris was besieged by the English. This historic bell, referred to by Victor Hugo in "Notre Dame de Paris," was given to the cathedral in 1400 by Jean de Montaigne. It was refounded in 1686 and then re-baptized under the name of Emmanuel Louise Therese in honor of Louis XIV. and Marie Therese of Austria.—London Globe.

Capt. Ned M. Green Reviews Recruiting Campaigns Colimating on July Fourth

WILSON CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS

Cooks are Needed in First Minnesota Infantry, Musicians Too, the Pay They Draw

To show the people of this city the great need of men, I am enclosing a communication from Captain Ned M. Green, recruiting officer, United States Army, from Duluth, Minnesota. The letter follows:

Recruiting Station U. S. Army, Duluth, Minn., June 27, 1917. A few towns do not seem to have gotten the idea of what we intend to do in Minnesota and Wisconsin on July 4th. The president has called for volunteers to fill the first line to go to France. His call reads: "I call upon ALL men from 18 to 40 years, who have no dependents, to present themselves for enlistment." This means your full men power—All men—and not a few.

Make lists of these men—see each one personally. This is your town army. The nation can do no better than your town. On July 4th enroll and offer to the president your town army.

Men should answer without any provisos in the way of special assignments—simply answer the call. They will have all the opportunities in the world later to be placed where they can serve best.

Please look this matter in the face—call your people together and show them what it means to your town and to your people.

Let every man know that he has been called and that your people expect him to respond NOW, and try to publish daily your complete list showing those who have responded and those who should respond and have not.

Wire me July 4th the number of men who select the regular army and the number who select the national guard.

If the present apathy is not overcome we will make a showing on July 4th which will be very humiliating. Results can be had only by a systematic, well organized effort. Begin at once.

Lack of prompt and energetic action will certainly mean failure. At Gettysburg the 1st Minnesota Infantry gave to the world a new mark of valor and devotion, suffering without defeat a loss of 82%, the highest of the war. Where are the sons of these men?

(Signed) NED M. GREEN, Captain United States Army. The following is a communication to the recruiting officer of the 1st Minnesota Infantry, Minneapolis, Minn., and his reply thereto: Detachment Co. "A", 1st Minnesota Infantry.

Brainerd, Minn., June 26, 1917. From—1st Lt. Irie Mallette, 1st Minn. Inf.

To—2nd Lt. Paul C. Cook, 1st Minn. Inf.

Subject—Recruiting. 1. I am sending you, under separate cover, last evening's issue of the Brainerd Dispatch. We expect to secure many recruits in the next week or so.

2. Please send me at once some enlistment papers.

3. Could you inform me how many men are needed to bring the regiment to war strength and how many cooks and musicians are needed.

(Signed) IRIE MALLETTE, 1st Lt. 1st Minn. Inf. War strength 2002. Present strength about 1875. To go—125. Many cooks are needed; also clarinet, saxophone and tuba players for band.

Enlistments are very slow here, only 4 or 5 a day, so you can see as strong as you like. Enlistment papers are coming forward enclosed. (Signed) "COOK."

Regarding cooks and musicians; a cook draws $38.00 per month. No musician receives less than $36.00 per month.

Brainerd should be able to fill this order for cooks and musicians. You may enlist at the army recruiting station, Best theatre building, for this service.

How long are you going to hang back, while others are voluntarily enlisting to perform your duty? The time has come when the man who has not responded is to be marked as a man who, while enjoying the privileges and protection of the country, is not able to see that it is his duty to safeguard the principles upon which the nation is founded.

(Signed) IRIE MALLETTE, 1st Lieut. 1st Minn. Inf.

Mr. Gruenhagen has done much to improve the grades of dairy cattle in this county and is one of the prime factors in the success of conventions and all activities relating to better farming and dairying in this section. He is chairman of the Agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce and is doing much to encourage dairying and improved farming in the county.

Walker and Dowling Schools Picnic at Little Bass Lake June 22

The Walker and Dowling schools held their closing picnic at Little Bass lake June 22.

Everyone had a good time, boat riding, fishing, exploring and playing ball. A lovely picnic dinner was prepared by the thrifty house wives which everybody seemed to enjoy.

Only one accident occurred when a tire on a large car was flattened. The car was run into the lake so the tire might fill with water.

The teachers, Vera Cooper and Ethel Emery, will return to their homes at Pequot and Cyphers next week.

-SOCIALIST VOTE AGAINST WAR

Returns Received by State Socialists Show This Sentiment Exists Against Continuance

Returns received by the state socialist party at its headquarters, 435 Rice street, St. Paul, shows an overwhelming sentiment exists in the ranks of the party against further continuance of the war, it was announced today, says the Minneapolis Journal.

The returns received were in response to the referendum held on the majority report of the St. Louis socialist convention, which asked for a referendum on continuance of the war.

A. L. Sugarman said that with a week left the vote stood 329 for and 12 against the majority report.

The referendum will be sent to congress.

SHOP PAY DAY ON JULY 13TH

In Order to Accommodate Merchants and Clerks Who Wish to Attend Picnic of the

FEDERATED FARMERS CLUBS

Which Will Take Place at Long Lake on the 14th and Which Will be Largely Attended

The Northern Pacific has arranged to pay their shop employees in this city on July 13th instead of the 14th in order that the merchants and clerks may attend the picnic of the Crow Wing County Federated Farmers' Clubs which takes place at Long Lake south on the latter date. Many of the business men anticipated attending this event but when the date was set for Saturday, the 14th of July, it was thought that it would not be possible for them to participate as it would be impossible for the stores and business places to close on Northern Pacific pay day, but the arrangement made to pay one day earlier in the month has removed the obstacle.

LET'S TRY IT ONCE

One of the best concerts played by the Brainerd band was enjoyed by as large a crowd as ever listened to this musical organization.

To those on foot the concert could be enjoyed from any part of the park but for those in automobiles the affair lost some of its pleasure inasmuch as through careless parking along the Fifth street side only about one-half as many could gain access to the curb as would have been the case had a little care and forethought been exhibited.

Cars parked at an angle of about 60 degrees with the curb will permit of over 50 cars to the block or allowing for the intersection being used at Ivy street about 110 cars could be accommodated in the two blocks between Holly and Juniper, allowing 6 feet to each car which is ample room for the majority of cars.

This arrangement would permit every driver to back out into the street and not be obliged to wait the pleasure of the car along side which has him blocked.

This suggestion might be tried out with the assistance of one of the patrolmen and once started would no doubt be continued.

And again while our pen is wet, let's cease all traffic and bare our heads during the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and if not over charged with patriotism show the proper respect to "Old Glory" and the U. S. A.

Special Officer E. G. Boyd charged that Kovotovich was operating at Dykeman, and that the cars were caught as they swung into the Mille Lacs road on the way to Ironton. Kovotovich drove the pilot car and Smilich followed with the car carrying 380 pint bottles of beer and 40 quarts.

FIRST CIRCUS COMING IN JULY

Al G. Barnes Wild Animal Circus to be in Brainerd on Tuesday, July 31, South Side

GREAT AMERICAN INSTITUTION

Barnes Circus is an Original and Genuine Wild Animal Circus. Advance Man in Town Today

Murray A. Pennock, general agent of the Al G. Barnes wild animal circus, was in town today and completed arrangements for the appearance of the show here and Brainerd will have its first circus of the season on Tuesday, July 31.

The circus, like the baseball game, is an American institution, and is dear to the heart of every American, be they boy, girl, man or woman, and as an American recreation receives the hearty response of every true American. The Barnes circus is an original and genuine wild animal circus, two trains of double length cars are required to transport this mammoth educational institution. Over 1000 wild and domestic animals and 150 of the 500 people the Barnes circus carries, makes up a program of 65 feature acts that all who have ever seen it and every man concedes is, the most sensational tented organization in the world, the greatest program ever presented under canvas.

The food supplies for this enormous show is a matter worthy the consideration of any community, for the supplies are purchased in the towns in which they exhibit every 24 hours. The local advertising, bills, blacksmith supplies, auto supplies, miscellaneous supplies, hotel accommodations for the advance department of which there is all told about 125 persons, and railroad expenses, all run into a grand total. Then there are the crowds from the country, the crowds on the street, the crowds at the show, all go to make the circus worth while. It is the one big holiday event, and the circus pays the bills, rain or shine. Remember the big free street parade at 10:30 a. m. Doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. Performances at 2 and 8 p. m.

The confidence, respect and admiration of the public have been won by the Al G. Barnes circus, because they have been given just what they were promised, because the management adheres to strict honorable business principles and are ever mindful of the confidence, convenience and comforts of their patrons.

5,000 NEW SILOS NEEDED THIS YEAR

STATE FOOD COMMITTEE URGES FARMERS TO BUILD FOR PROFIT AND PATRIOTISM—PROPAGANDA IS STARTED

SILO TOURS PROMOTED THROUGHOUT THE STATE

A. D. Wilson, Chairman of State Committee is Giving Campaign His Personal Attention—Hope is to Add 5,000 Silos to Those in the State.

(Issued by the Minnesota Food Committee with the approval of the Public Safety Commission.)

From 4,000 to 5,000 silos will be added to the 16,000 silos already on Minnesota's farms, if a campaign begun June 21 by the state committee on food production and conservation, to be continued through July and even longer, gives the results hoped for.

A. D. Wilson, chairman of the state food committee, regards the silo as so important as a means of increasing the profits of Minnesota's farmers and as a war measure for conserving grain for human food, that he is giving his personal attention to the encouragement of silo tours in all parts of the state where corn is grown. He is urging farmers and business men to arrange for automobile tours, by which farmers having no silos may be able to visit farms on which silos are a part of the equipment, not only for the study of the different types of silos, but to learn from farmers having silos what the practical results are.

Why the Silo Counts.

Mr. Wilson believes in the silo: Because 3.7 acres of corn put into it furnish as much feed as 5.3 acres of similar corn cut and shocked. Because a corn crop of 35 bushels to the acre will give seven tons of silage to the acre, with a gain of $11 an acre over husking from the standing stalks. Because silage-fed cows produce from 10 to 20 per cent more milk than cows fed fodder from the same acreage.

Because silage decreases the cost of grains in the beef cattle feed lot. Because, in short, a silo on the farm means more profits and more kraln to feed the armies that are fighting for human freedom.

Tours Help Campaign.

The silo campaign, preceded by the simultaneous publication of a silo page in each of the three leading farm papers of the state, began with a series of tours from Staples, Wadena, Fergus Falls, Royalton, Detroit, Starbuck, Hawley, Villard and St. Cloud. The plan is to encourage similar tours in other parts of the state. In everyone of the towns named silo day was a great red letter day for the community. Every non-owner of a silo found that every owner was a silo enthusiast. This sentiment Mr. Wilson hopes to see spread throughout the state rapidly, because now is the time to build a silo.

RURAL LIFE AND PATRIOTISM

Subject to Be Discussed at Rural Life Conference to Be Held At Agricultural College.

At the fourth annual rural life conference to be held at University Farm, St. Paul, July 19 and 20, and to be attended by hundreds of rural teachers, pastors, and other community leaders, the principal theme will be the task laid upon country life in the present period of national stress.

Kenyon L. Butterfield, president of the Agricultural College of Massachusetts, will deliver an address on "A Rural Democracy." In this he will outline the elements in a rural democracy and advance the idea that the world must be made safe for democracy. He will also speak on the "Rebuilding of Rural Communities." In this address he will go into detail concerning the thorough organization of local farming communities, emphasizing the fact that this is the only way in which rural democracy may be realized.

The committee in charge of the conference changed the date of the conference this year in order that the teachers attending the teachers' training school might have the privilege of being present. President Butterfield is an authority on rural life problems, and an effort is being made to bring in as many rural leaders as possible to hear him.

NEW CANNING PROCESS TOLD

University Extension Experts on Tour of State Explaining Methods Now in Use.

To reach the children of the state in the new drive for the conservation of foodstuffs by canning, T. A. Erickson, state leader of the boys' and girls' club work, and S. B. Cleland, assistant county agent leader, are now giving demonstrations throughout the state. At Owatonna recently 147 persons, including many boys and girls, witnessed a demonstration of the most modern methods of canning, and were given laboratory practice.

Both Mr. Erickson and Mr. Cleland are also giving preliminary lectures on the new drying methods used and recommended by the United States experiment stations along with the canning demonstrations.

LESS BRITISH SHIPS SUNK

Slight Decline for Week in Shipping Destroyed.

London, June 28.—Twenty-one British vessels of more than 1,600 tons each and seven under 1,600 tons were sunk by mines or submarines last week, according to the weekly statement of losses issued by the admiralty. No fishing vessels met with disaster.

The aggregate number of vessels flying the British flag destroyed by mines or submarines last week shows a net falling off of four as compared with the losses reported the previous week, which numbered thirty-two, twenty-seven of more than 1,600 tons and five in the smaller division.

The admiralty reports arrivals as 2,876 and sailing 2,923. Twenty-two merchant vessels were attacked unsuccessfully.

AMERICANS ARE ON FRENCH SOIL

Advance Guard of Great Army Has Arrived.

DEFIES GERMAN SUBMARINES

Thousands of Seasoned Regulars and Marines Will Fight Beside French, British, Belgian, Russian and Portuguese Troops on the Western Front.

Washington, June 28.—The advance guard of the mighty army the United States is preparing to send against Germany is on French soil.

In defiance of the German submarines thousands of seasoned regulars and marines, veterans of long service on the Mexican border or in Haiti or Santo Domingo, have been hastened overseas to fight beside French, British, Belgian, Russian and Portuguese troops on the Western front.

News of their arrival sent a new thrill through Washington. No formal announcement came from the war department. None will come, probably, until Major General Pershing's official report has been received.

Press dispatches from France show Major General Sibert, one of the new major generals, has been given command of the first force sent abroad under General Pershing, as commander-in-chief of the expedition.

America Sets Fast Pace.

One thing stands out sharply, despite the fact that the size of the task that has been accomplished is not fully revealed as yet. This is that American enterprise has set a new record for the transportation of troops.

Considering the distance to be covered and the fact that all preparations had to be made after the order came from the White House the night of May 18 it is virtually certain that never before has a military expedition of this size been assembled, conveyed and landed without mishap in so short a time by any nation.

The only rival in magnitude is the movement of British troops to South Africa in the Boer war and that was made over seas unhampered by submarines, mines or other obstacles.

The American force will be a net gain to the allies. It will throw no single burden of supply or equipment on them. The troops will be fed, clothed, armed and equipped by the United States. Around them at the camp on French soil are being stored supplies that will keep them going for months and more will follow.

BRITISH MAY SOON ATTACK

German Military Writers Look for New Offensive.

Copenhagen, June 28.—German military writers, with enlightenment furnished to them by the war press bureau, express the opinion the British are preparing a new offensive, but Field Marshal Haig's tactics in striking now here and now there along the British front leave them in uncertainty as to the section on which the blow will fall.

Captain von Salvmann, in the Vossische Zeitung, says the feints of the British commander in the past week evidently were to cover a regrouping of troops and a surprise attack against a narrow front with an extraordinarily heavy concentration of artillery and infantry. He believes the attack may come north of Ypres.

GERMANY TO PAY HOLLAND

Vessels Torpedoed Last February Will Be Replaced.

London, June 28.—According to a Hague official communication forwarded by the Amsterdam correspondent of Reuters, an agreement has been reached between the Dutch and German governments concerning the Dutch merchantmen torpedoed off the English coast last February. Germany undertakes to replace the lost vessels by the cession of a number of German ships now in the Dutch East Indies of equivalent value, but Holland is to pay Germany a sum equivalent to the total compensation value of the lost ships.

BIG GUNS KEEP UP STEADY FIRE

Infantry Practically Inactive on Western Front.

UNABLE TO FIND SHELTER

Austrian Artillery Shatters Positions on the Asiago Plateau Recently Taken by the Italians and Compels the Latter to Retreat—Russian Armies Are Showing More Activity.

London, June 28.—Again the operations along the front in France are being carried out mainly by the artillery of the belligerents. The minor infantry activity is by patrols, in which only small bits of territory have been attacked.

In one of these attacks the Canadians have occupied an additional trench astride the Lens-Arras road, but in another attempt they were repulsed, according to the German war office.

Reciprocal bombardments of considerable intensity continue along the Aisne front and in Champagne and there has also been a renewal of the big gun fire in the Avocourt sector, northwest of Verdun.

Italians Forced to Retire.

In the Aisne plateau zone of the Austro-Italian theater the Austrian artillery has shattered positions taken recently by the Italians and reoccupied them.

The fighting was on Monte Ortigara and the Austrians assert they captured more than 1,800 prisoners.

Rome, in admitting the withdrawal of the Italians, says the destroyed positions afforded no shelter to the Italians from the murderous fire of the Austrian artillery.

Lively fighting continues between the Russians and Austro-Germans on the Eastern front, particularly in Galicia south of the Tarnopol railway and along the Narayuvka river.

The operations on the Macedonian front continue of minor importance.

CANNOT SERVE IN EUROPE

American Women of Enemy Birth Barred From Red Cross.

Washington, June 28.—Because their presence would embarrass Red Cross units going abroad American women of German parentage will be barred from Red Cross service under an order made public by Colonel Jefferson R. Kean, United States medical corps, to directors of Red Cross hospitals. Colonel Kean makes it plain that women of German, Austrian, Bulgarian or Turkish birth are probably loyal to the United States, but they have been regarded with suspicion in the allied countries and it is understood that the British and French consuls in the United States have been forbidden by their governments to vize their passports if presented.

INVITATION IS DECLINED

British Refuse to Meet With Teuton Socialists.

London, June 28.—The section of British Socialists led by Henry Hyndman has declined the invitation of the Russian Council of Workmen and Soldier's Delegates to attend the international Socialist conference at Stockholm.

The refusal is based on the fact that the conference will be attended by German and Austrian Socialists, and that it cannot serve the cause of peace or socialism as long as Germans remain in possession of territory they seized and devastated.

SAYS HE WAS BLACKMAILED

Frank J. Dunn Admits Paying $5,000 in Hush Money.

St. Paul, June 28.—Frank J. Dunn, on trial on the charge of hiring several men to kill his wife, on the witness stand admitted giving A. F. Brown and S. C. Ferdig $5,000 in the summer of 1915, but asserted they blackmailed him, saying they would go before the police with a story he had offered to hire them to kill his wife. They had told him they were four to one and, believing they could get away with their scheme, Dunn had given them the money. He emphatically denied, however, that he had approached Brown and Ferdig with a proposition to kill his wife.

Dunn strongly denied any connection with the killing of his wife or of any proposition to Mike Moore to hire the Redenbaugh gunmen to murder her.

He admitted visiting his vault the afternoon his wife was killed, but said it was only to accompany his brother Edward to get a note due.

Dunn asserted the relations between his wife and himself following the separation suit were friendly and a letter and postal card from her to him were introduced to bear out his testimony.

Porto Rican Registration July 15.

Washington, June 28.—Draft registration day in Porto Rico has been fixed for July 15 in a proclamation by President Wilson.

MINNEAPOLIS IS HONORED

C. E. Ovenshire Chosen Imperial Potentate of Shriners.

Minneapolis, June 28.—Minneapolis received the highest honors in Shrine-dom when Charles E. Ovenshire was formally elected Imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at the final session of the order's 1917 convocation.

Mr. Ovenshire, who succeeds Henry F. Niedringhaus of St. Louis, received his apprenticeship degree as a Mason in 1891. He was potentate of Zuhrah temple in 1907. For the last ten years he has represented Zuhrah temple in the imperial council.

In 1908 he was elected imperial outer guard and since that year has held every office in the council. Mr. Ovenshire is also grand treasurer of the grand commandery of Minnesota, Knights Templar.

QUOTA OF SURPLUS FUNDS

Flathead Indians Given $275,000 by Government.

Missoula, Mont., June 28.—Between 2,300 and 2,500 Indians, composing the Flathead tribe, are receiving checks from the government covering their quota of the surplus funds in the treasury of the department of Indian affairs. It is estimated that the government is giving the Flathead tribesmen approximately $275,000. The pro rata allotment of each Indian of the tribe is about $200.

LANSING AIDE CONFIRMED

Lester H. Woolsey, Republican, Becomes Department Solicitor.

Washington, June 28.—Confirmation of the nomination of Lester H. Woolsey of New York as solicitor of the state department was voted, 58 to 16, by the senate.

Mr. Woolsey, who is a Republican, has been on the department's legal staff for several years.

SENATE FACING KEEN STRUGGLE

Redraft of Food Control Bill Arouses Opposition.

SITUATION IS COMPLICATED

New Prohibition Provision May Precipitate Long Debate and Leaders Admit That Prospects for Early Passage of Measure Have Gone Glimmering.

Washington, June 28.—Following the senate agriculture committee's action in reporting a redraft of the house food control bill with extensions of government power and a new bone dry provision to stop manufacture of intoxicating beverages during the war, the senate went glimmering.

All leaders admitted the new prohibition provision greatly complicates the situation and precludes enactment of the measure by Saturday night, as earnestly desired by President Wilson.

The possibility of a filibuster because of the drastic prohibition proposal is being considered. Senate leaders agree the prohibition fight probably will be long and one of the most strenuous in the history of the upper body, with alignment extremely close on the question of stopping the manufacture of beer.

Under the redrafted measure, which Senator Chamberlain will move to have substituted for the draft the senate has been debating, the president would be authorized to permit wine making and commandeer existing distilled spirits.

Recommendation Is Rejected.

The committee rejected its subcommittee's recommendation that the president be given authority to permit continuance of manufacture of malt and fermented beverages.

In extending the scope of the legislation the committee adopted amendments which would provide for government control, in addition to food, feeds and fuel, of iron, steel, copper and their products, farm implements and machinery, fertilizers and binding twine materials.

Other important amendments approved would authorize the government to take over and operate factories, packing houses, oil wells and mines, regulating wages of their employees and to commandeer supplies of every kind when needed for the army and navy, "or any other public use connected with the public defense."

Another would empower the government to buy and sell, for general civilian purposes, food, feeds and fuels, with limitation upon the general legislation making it apply to agencies and products only in interstate or foreign commerce.

The amendments are declared by senators who have been opposing, as well as those supporting the legislation, to improve the bill and remove almost all opposition except on prohibition. The prohibition action was written into the bill by a vote of nine to seven.

Bacteria Long Lived.

How long some bacteria may live under proper conditions is brought out by M. W. Lyon, Jr., of George Washington university in a letter to Science. He tells of a culture of organisms of paratyphoid beta kept for more than ten years sealed in a test tube at Howard university, which, when transferred to another medium, produced the reactions that proved the bacteria to be alive and active.

Bodily Housekeeping

(BY V. M. PIERCE, M. D.)

The subject of drinking water with meals has been misunderstood for a hundred years.

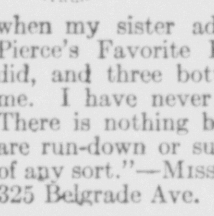

In recent years investigation by means of X-rays, the observations of scientists such as Cannon, Grutzner, Pavlov, Fowler, Hawk, prove that an abundance of water taken during digestion is necessary in good bodily housekeeping. Drink plenty of water with each meal. Do not drink ice-water at any time.

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times, pain in the back or back of the neck, take a little Anuric before meals. This can be found at any good drug store. Therefore my advice to young or old is, always drink plenty of pure water. And for long life, occasionally take tablets of Anuric three or four times a day.

It is simply wonderful how quickly Anuric acts—much more potent than lithia. You will find it dissolves uric acid as water does sugar.

SUFFERED SEVERE PAINS.

Mankato, Minn.—"About four years ago I became all run-down and weak thru hard work. I could not eat, was bilious all the time, suffered severe pains in the back, in fact was distressed all over. I had several good doctors but did not get any relief. I went on suffering this way for about two years when my sister advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and three bottles completely cured me. I have never been bothered since. There is nothing better for women who are run-down or suffering with weakness of any sort."—Miss GERTRUDE E. EVANS, 325 Belgrade Ave.
